Following my note in the last issue of the Newsletter on the spinous structures on the juvenile leaves of Pseudopanax edgerleyi, I have received a letter from Mr Dakin of Hunua, who reports finding similar structures on the juvenile leaves of P. simplex collected by Mr Higenbotham of Opotiki upon the Volcanic Plateau, and also on leaves of P. anomalum from the Hunua area. As he says, the plot thickens! He tells me he has written to Professor Philipson of Canterbury University who has done much work on the Araliaceae in New Zealand, and he is examining and carrying out tests on the leaf structures to try and determine exact status etc. We hope to be able to let you know more about them later.
